

A DIFFERNT TRAVEL IN SOUTH KOREA

This is "Han-gang"(漢江). It is my first impression to South Korea . I always see this point from some programs. This river had a big impact in Korea. Because there are many TV movies or drama which talk about the romance always find a view program or here.

It is very interesting to me because it is a great chance for me to experience their clothing culture. By the way, there are different types of Honbok. The one I wore is for unmarried young women. People say that it means purity.

This is my first time trying those kind of food in this culture. Actually, I was afraid that I couldn't accept eating the beef sashimi. I thought that I couldn't accept eating it, because I'm afraid of the taste . Out of curiosity , I ate it . But I think that's very delicious!
